Romans: The Transforming Power of the Righteousness of God

---

Interlude Handout

Review: Romans 12-16

Review

The mercies of God motivate us to a consecrated life (living sacrifice) that does not allow the world and its belief system to force us into its mold, but which results in transformation by the renewing of our minds, leading to doing the will of God particularly in humble service within the Body of Christ.

Love one another and the things that are good, hate what is evil. But in the midst of evil, seek to live at peace with all, not retaliating evil for evil, bless and minister to those who are against you. Submit to governing authorities who have been given authority by God. Seek to fulfill the Law by loving neighbors and doing good and living right (righteously).

It is with this kind of love that we are to approach our relationships with other Christians— especially when we disagree on disputable matters. Accepting one another (differences and all) for the glory of God.
